War Chest

Sam Roberts

Take these memories, hide them carefully
Inside the war chest I keep
Under lock and key, deep in the heart of me
Until the storm's overhead

The way the sky can change
From one moment to the next
The way you always sing to me
When I'm out of my depth

Without love where would we be?

Take every moment the sun was shining
Take every song that freed your mind and
Push back the storm on

On the horizon
Hold back the seas that keep on climbing

Take these autumn days
Stow them all away inside my war chest
Take the stars and moon and lazy afternoons
All the things I love best

The way you used to laugh
Still echoes in the walls
The tears, the sacrifice

The way I danced you through the halls
Without love where would we be?
Nowhere at all

Take every moment the sun was shining
Take every song that freed your mind and
Push back the storm on
On the horizon

Hold back the seas that keep on climbing

Cause I know it's true that after all

You come and you go
You rise and fall
All I can do is thank you all

Yeah, all I can do is thank you all

Take these memories

Hide them carefully
Inside the war chest I keep
Under lock and key
Deep in the heart of me
Until the storm's overhead
