

Heartland

Sam Ryder

I came crashing down with the fall
Thrown like a stone, all out on my own
Lawless jungles taking a toll on me
When I feel darkness claiming my soul

I take to the heartland
I scream from the rooftops
I'm reaping the harvest, uh
I'm rain on the garden
You know I got a green thumb
Take to the heartland
I scream from the rooftops
I'm reaping the harvest, uh
I'm rain on the garden coming down

When the lights go out and I'm down on the floor
And you think my heart ain't beating no more
You better make sure I ain't breathing at all
'Cause I could do anything
Yeah, I could do anything
And, when the sun comes up and the truth comes out
And you think you know who I am now
You better keep my name right outta your mouth
'Cause I could do anything
Yeah, I could do anything

Listen
If you're wondering if the wind's still in my sails, then, yes
It never left, mm
It never left, yeah
And if you're wondering if the wind's still in my sails, then, yes
It never left
Trust, it never left
Close your eyes, you don't wanna see this
Don't mistake my kindness for weakness
'Cause I am not somebody you can leave out in the cold
And, if you slept on me, then you should know

I take to the heartland
I scream from the rooftops
I'm reaping the harvest
I'm rain on the garden
You know I got a green thumb
Take to the heartland
I scream from the rooftops
I'm reaping the harvest
I'm rain on the garden coming down

When the lights go out and I'm down on the floor
And you think my heart ain't beating no more
You better make sure I ain't breathing at all
'Cause I could do anything
Yeah, I could do anything
And, when the sun comes up and the truth comes out
And you think you know who I am now
You better keep my name right outta your mouth
'Cause I could do anything

Yeah, I could do anything

(Yeah)

When the lights go out and I'm down on the floor
And you think my heart ain't beating no more
You better make sure I ain't breathing at all
'Cause I could do anything
Yeah, I could do anything
And, when the sun comes up and the truth comes out
And you think you know who I am now
You better keep my name right outta your mouth
'Cause I could do anything
Yeah, I could do anything

And if you're wondering if the wind's still in my sails, then, yes
It never left, yeah
And if you're wondering if the wind's still in my sails, then, yes
Trust, it never left
