

Mountain

Sam Ryder

Rough seas might pull me under and
Dark clouds might dim my days
But there's always bright tomorrows when
I close my eyes and say
"Remember how you've made it through the fire
Remember how you've come so far
An unstoppable force of nature
Yeah, that's what you are

I know all that I have lost
Has given me the purpose of
Conquering my pain through love
I sing this hymn to rise above

I am a mountain
And down in the valley below
Is all that I've overcome
All that I've overcome, woah-oh
I am a mountain
And down in the valley below
Is all that I've overcome
All that I've oh-oh-overcome

'Ome, oh-oh-overcome
'Ome, oh-oh-overcome
I'm a fighter, it's like I was born to be one

Whatever life may throw, I'll pass the test
Whatever faith or dream might haunt me next
I stick with my head to the sky
Not shaken by thunder and wind and the tide

I know all that I have lost
Has given me the purpose of
Conquering my pain through love
I sing this hymn to rise above

I am a mountain
And down in the valley below
Is all that I've overcome
All that I've overcome, woah-oh
I am a mountain
And down in the valley below
Is all that I've overcome
All that I've oh-oh-overcome

'Ome, oh-oh-overcome
'Ome, oh-oh

I am a mountain
And down in the valley below
Is all that I've overcome
All that I've overcome, woah-oh
I am a mountain
And down in the valley below
Is all that I've overcome
All that I've oh-oh-overcome

'Ome, oh-oh-overcome

'Ome, oh-oh

'Ome, oh-oh-overcome

'Ome, oh-oh

I am a fighter, it's like I was born to be one
