

Up Down

Sam Ryder

Can't keep away from each other, no matter what we try
I look for you in this bottle till nothing's left inside
You say I'm dead to you, baby, but you could never lie
Your lips keep bringing me back to life

Blame it on the heartache
Blame it on the rain
Blame it on the feelings
No one can explain
I still got your number
I ain't got no shame
If it's not too late

Are you up?
And are you down?
I need somebody
If you need somebody to love
Right now
I'm out on your side of town
Are you up and are you down?

There's so much I wish I could say to you
But my heart ain't in the right place, baby
Now my car's back in your driveway, baby
And I don't know what I should blame it on

Blame it on the heartache
Blame it on the rain
Blame it on the feelings
No one can explain
I still got your number
I ain't got no shame
If it's not too late

Are you up?
And are you down?
I need somebody
If you need somebody to love
Right now
I'm out on your side of town
Are you up and are you down?

Are you up are you up
Are you down are you down
Are you up are you up
Are you up and are you down?
Are you up are you up
Are you down are you down
Are you up are you up
Are you up and are you down?

Tryna keep my feet on the ground, but I'm a fool for you now
It's like a fire that keeps on burning
Try to keep my feet on the ground
But I keep coming around
I keep coming around

Are you up?
And are you down?
I need somebody
If you need somebody to love
Right now
I'm out on your side of town
Are you up and are you down?

Are you up? Are you up?
Are you down? Are you down?
Are you up? Are you up?
Are you up and are you down?
Are you up? Are you up?
Are you down? Are you down?
Are you up? Are you up?
Are you up and are you down?
