

White Lies

Sam Ryder

This is the life
Or so they keep telling me
I'm feather light
So high they don't ever see

That everything is nothing 'til I'm loving you again
You're the reason I believe, your love is common sense
Coming home to you, I'm flying over continents
Nothing can compare, I'm not me when you ain't there

I'm down on my knees
I can't tell my soul another white lie
Like I could replace your love in no time
Nothing to me
I'm all that I need
Don't worry my baby, I'll be just fine
Oh, there goes another little white lie
I'll never believe, yeah

I would climb the walls of your love
Build it back to glory from the ground up
Made it through the wreckage and we found us
Like diamonds untouched
I don't know what I've been waiting for Life isn't everything that I thought
In the back of my mind I'm at your front door
And that makes me want you more

I'm down on my knees
I can't tell my soul another white lie
Like I could replace your love in no time
Nothing to me
I'm all that I need
Don't worry my baby, I'll be just fine
Oh, there goes another little white lie
I'll never believe

I'll never believe

I'm down on my knees
I can't tell my soul another white lie
Like I could replace your love in no time
Nothing to me
