

Time Won't Wait

Sam Smith

He steps on the stair waiting
For someone to get him
Bring him down to the party
But everyone forgets him
So for times will o stams
And shams the daddy gets his mother too
Been good secretly

Fine young people can still be calloused
And time keeps turing while you're still jealous
That life means nothing while you get headless
No time won't wait for no man to come down

He steps in his room waiting
For someone to call him
Bring him out of it to cool waiting
For someone to love him
But for times will o stams
Shams the daddy and his mother too
Been good once again

Fine young people can still be calloused
And time keeps turing while you're still jealous
That life means nothing while you get headless
No time won't wait for no man to come down

(Fine young people can still be calloused)
Fine young people can still be calloused
And time keeps turing while you're still jealous
That life means nothing while you get headless
No time won't wait for no man to come down

Fine young people can still be calloused
And time keeps turing while you're still jealous
That life means nothing while you get headless
No time won't wait for no man to come down
To come down
