

Everything

Sam Sparro

I never wanna say that I've given too much again
So many other lovers had a limit, but not you, you, you, you

It's in the way, it's in the way you love me babe
It's in the way, it's in the way you love
Never enough, never enough, it's history
I'm full of love because you're giving me everything

Everything, everything, everything, and some more
Everything, everything, everything, and more
Everything, everything, everything, and some more
Everything, everything, and more

Every little thing I never knew I needed in the world
Everything I never knew I needed in the world

You give me what I never knew I needed, but now I know
I'm so satisfied I'm never gonna quit it, oh no
Never gonna quit it baby, baby

It's in the way, it's in the way you love me babe
It's in the way, it's in the way you love
Never enough, never enough, it's history
I'm full of love because you're giving me everything

Everything, everything, everything, and some more, (oh everything)
Everything, everything, everything, and more
Everything, everything, everything, and some more, (oh everything to me)
Everything, everything, and more

Every little thing I never knew I needed in the world
(Oh everything)
Everything I never knew I needed in the world
Every little thing I never knew I needed in the world
Everything I never knew I needed in the world

Everything, everything, everything, and some more
Everything, everything, everything, and more
Everything, everything, everything, and some more
Everything, everything, and more

Every little thing I never knew I needed in the world
Everything I never knew I needed in the world
(Everything)
Every little thing I never knew I needed in the world
(Oh everything)
Everything I never knew I needed in the world
