

Watch Your Back

Sam Tinnesz

One day they will come for us
Like poison dripping in our blood
Blind devotion's not enough
Can't go on with all I should

Feels like a masquerade is the man behind the mask
You better watch your back
You better watch your back
We're standing face to face with the hearts that turned to black
You better watch your back
You better watch your back
Watch your back
Better watch your back

Hearing footsteps in your sleep
All this darkness underneath
Hollow trust turn casualties
Can be leaving what we see

(Is it all an illusion)
Feels like a masquerade is the man behind the mask
You better watch your back
You better watch your back
We're standing face to face with the hearts that turned to black
You better watch your back
You better watch your back
Watch your back
You better watch your back

Shadows
Shadows
Shadows are haunting us

Feels like a masquerade is the man behind the mask
You better watch your back
You better watch your back
We're standing face to face with the hearts that turned to black
You better watch your back
You better watch your back
Watch your back
You better watch your back
