

stuck inside (self isolation anthem)

Sam Tompkins

I'm stuck inside
And that's usually alright
But now it's like my life
Is based on trying not to die
I'm also trying not to cry
It's not the virus I don't like
It's being fucking stuck inside (Look)

I know it's trivial
But now I'm thinking 'bout all of the things I didn't do
When I was free to walk the streets
But I have empathy for those that have it worse than me
But still
I've taken up a new skill
To get me by these shitty times
Don't tell me how to feel
That's real
Now I'm cooking every meal
It used to come on two or four wheels

I'm stuck inside
And that's usually alright
But now it's like my life
Is based on trying not to die
I'm also trying not to cry
It's not the virus I don't like
It's being fucking stuck inside
Don't wanna pay no mind
To tweets on the timeline
Of politics, deceit, and lies
I know that this will all be fine
It's not the virus I don't like
It's being fucking stuck inside (Look)

I want a cigarette
Not 'cause I'm craving it
But just because I wanna touch the air and live in it
I'm really sick of it
This stupid kitchenette
And my damn silhouette
I'm bored, like...
I ordered a vacuum online
'Cause cleaning's better than watching the time
No lie
Fetch me a Dettol wipe and I'll get by
I wanna try on all my clothes
Put on a fashion show
And no one needs to know
But the laundry in my room
Is piled up to the moon
I like to wash them at the launderette, but

I'm stuck inside

It's not the virus I don't like

And that's usually alright
I'm also trying not to cry
It's being fucking stuck inside
I know that this will all be fine
