

A Million Pieces

Sam Tsui

You caught me in a crazy kind of love
Now break me down, turn around and build me up

Should've stopped it, just a kiss
Don't you know that loving you is dangerous
But every time you leave me shattered on the floor
I only want you more

'Cause baby that's just what you do
Breaking me into a million pieces
And maybe I should be scared of you
Once you're smiling I forget my reasons

Smash my windowpane
Why do I love getting caught in your hurricane
'Cause baby that's just what you do
Breaking me into a million pieces

Stole my soul, steal my sanity away
Make that face, baby I could stay just one more day
Loving you, it has a price
Even when you break my heart it's paradise
And every time you leave me shattered on the floor
I only want you more

'Cause baby that's just what you do
Breaking me into a million pieces
And maybe I should be scared of you
Once you're smiling I forget my reasons

Smash my windowpane
Why do I love getting caught in your hurricane
'Cause baby that's just what you do
Breaking me into a million pieces

I wonder if you understand
What you do to me, what you do to me
I fall to pieces in your hand
But you set me free, but you set me free

I wonder if you understand
What you do to me, what you do to me
I fall to pieces in your hand
But you set me free, but you set me free

Breaking me into a million pieces

(Yeah!)

'Cause baby that's just what you do
Breaking me into a million pieces
And maybe I should be scared of you
Once you're smiling I forget my reasons

Smash my windowpane
Why do I love getting caught in your hurricane
'Cause baby that's just what you do
Breaking me into a million pieces

I wonder if you understand
Breaking me into a million pieces
I wonder if you understand
Breaking me into a million pieces
I wonder if you understand
Breaking me into a million pieces
I wonder if you understand
Breaking me into a million pieces
