

Dream Girl

Samantha Fish

Say I'm your dream girl, drift away with me
We spread our wings and fly as far as we can see
But when you're ready you go back to the ground, and I can't come down

If I could give up, a happy ever after
I'd be gone
If you could live up to the dreams that I've been having
I'd hold on

Say I'm your dream girl, come to your aide
I fight your demons as it was my own crusade
And in the morning when you go, I face a darkness you will never know

If I could give up, a happy ever after
I'd be gone
If you could live up to the dreams that I've been having

I'd hold on

Say I'm your dream girl, you call on my love
Give the parts of your heart you think I'm worthy of
I wish you'd take the rest of me, these tears they kill your fantasy I know, oh I know

If I could give up, a happy ever after
I'd be gone
If you could live up to the dreams that I've been having
I'd hold on
If I could give up, a happy ever after
I'd be gone
If you could live up to the dreams that I've been having
I'd hold on
