If I stay, I know that I must share your love
That I couldn't take
And if I go, we'll be apart and I know my heart
Would surely break

So, what difference does it make? Ah, which one I choose Oh, either way I lose Either way I lose

Though I know my love is true
I'd die if you, you ever told me goodbye
Ever you told me goodbye
And I know she loves you too
And she would do the very same as I

So, what difference does it make Ah, which one I choose

Oh, either way I lose Either way, baby Either way I lose I won't lose you

If I stay, I know that I must share your love That I couldn't take, no, no And if I go, we'll be apart and I know my heart Oh, it would surely break

So, what difference does it make
Ah, which one I choose
Oh, either way I lose
Either way, baby
I see love
Either way I gonna lose you
Ooh, I gon', I gon', I gon' lose, ooh
