Amelia

Samia

Who's that shadow kicking sunset?
Running up with Muriel to catch the last song
Carolina in the springtime
Caleb at the fire pit scaling the beyond

All I'm running with, babe, is a blank slate towards the ocean
Fuck your rear view
There's no room to shoulder hindsight where we're going

Huh, delight
To live another night
Huh, delight
Delight

Amelia
She's giving me that half smile
She knows something about me I do not know
And behind her
You can see the sun
Reaching its long fingers into a chokehold

She's shuffling between the strobes
Sucking up and rolling the globe
I'm like, "How'd you get your leg so high up?"
Fuck

Delight, to live another night
Huh, delight
Delight
Huh, delight
To live another night
Huh, delight
Delight

Walking into the middle of the party
I'm writing a poem somebody stop me
Simmer, wet as the LA river
Me and all my friends are up late bonding

I can feel the earth, it's shaking underneath my shoes
Oh my god, there's nothing quite like doing what you came to do
Percolating, breathing, dancing, dying

Huh, delight
To live another night
Huh, delight
Delight, delight
Huh, delight
To live another night
Huh, delight
Delight, delight

Huh, delight
To live another night
Huh, delight
Delight, delight (Percolating, breathing, dancing, dying)
Huh, delight

To live another night (Percolating, breathing, dancing, dying)
Huh, delight
Delight, delight
