

You said, "Bug, I think I love you bug"
I said, "Yeah, I think you love me too"
Even though you made me cry tonight
Nothing poisonous and nothing new
So I hurled myself into the pool
And I danced for all the party guests
I do only ever as I want
And especially when it's a test

Why you shakin'?
Why you shakin'?

You said, "It don't matter how you sing"
When you sing, we know the reason why
And your body's just the housing thing
For the song that I'm confounded by

Why am I shakin'?
Why am I shakin'?

I wanna be your poetry
I'm sick and tired of bluffin'
You said when you get over me
You'll finally get it published
I think they're gonna love it

Drinking Mezcal like we're at the bar
Chase it with what I was gonna say
I know why I'm going where you are
And why I will find you on the way
