Sky Flying By

Samiam

Nothing has divided you
It's growing older faster than it should
Pieces of me outside your door
So you're not at home
I'd like to not wonder where you are
Blurry eyed my feet leave the ground
See that sky flying by
See the streetlights spin and blend
Proving it's not a faster scar
So I'll just leave it there
You could maybe pick it up
Only you could see what it was
And I'll just lay it to rest
I'll get up and leave knowing
That you'll see it lying there