

Why, Where, When

Samiam

Why don't you quit holding back
And say what you want to say
Where did the trouble go
Because it hasn't gone away

Are you going to pretend like you're some other person
Never saw it never been there never heard that question

I often wonder who you were before I met you
What do you do when you're alone
Did you really think that I'd make you feel okay
Even when you didn't want to feel that way

When did you decide that I was the one you wanted
When did you decide that I was the one you wanted to play

Why where when
Why where when
Why where when
Why where when

I often wonder who you were before I met you
What did you do what got you through the day
Did you really think that things would be okay
Even though you knew they'd never be that way

When did you decide that I was the one you wanted
When did you decide that I was the one you wanted

Why where when
Why where when
When did you decide that I was the one you wanted to play

I feel that you were right there
I feel that you were right there
I feel that you were right there
I feel that you were right there
Right there
Right there
Right there
