

Hey, Did I Do You Wrong?

San Cisco

We met when we were 16
You'd never see us apart
Life was filled with salt and sunscreen
And nothing was ever that hard
We liked that
What we have right now
Isn't like that
Tell me honestly

Hey, did I do you wrong?
Or is it more about
You need a change of scene.
Are you losing touch
With who you used to be?
Or do you need someone
In your life that I can't be?

I know the love of your dreams
Was your priority.
Now I only see you when they leave
I know what that means
So I didn't fight that.
I never thought that
You would be like that
Did they pull you away?

Or hey, did I do you wrong?
Or is it more about
You need a change of scene
Are you losing touch
With who you used to be
Or do you need someone
In your life that I can't be?

Now you move in a different circle
I'm on the road and never local
So you never got time for me
We don't even speak
I don't like that
Yeah, I never thought that
We would be like that
Tell me honestly

Hey, did I do you wrong?
Or is it more about
You need a change of scene.
Are you losing touch
With who you used to be
Or do you need someone
In your life that I can't be?

Hey, did I do you wrong?
Or is it more about
You need a change of scene.
Are you losing touch
With who you used to be
Or do you need someone

In your life that I can't be?
