

Just For A Minute

San Cisco

Just for a minute
I'll be waiting here for you
Please don't forget it
If you want me to,
'cause I've been waiting here for you
All night, all night, all night, all night.

Just for a minute
We should take it slow
Feel like we need it
Don't be scared to be alone
I'll keep waiting here for you
All night, all night, all night, all right.

If you can feel it, and you can see it
You will want it, so you need it
Where you're going to, what you've been through
One or maybe two, more than I would do
You're a little green, the things you've seen
Are different to what [?]
You're your own worst enemy,
But you bring out the best in me.
