Shine

San Cisco

I'm kinda busy but you're coming around
A little neurotic but you're fine when you calm down
You're so anxious to try and be better
We've all got dreams, they'll crush you if you let 'em

I see you're having troubles
It's okay, we all have struggles
When I ask what's on your mind
You say

You say you're fine
But you've lost your shine
You say you're fine
But you've lost your shine

You're focused on things that don't really matter
Friends or fame and you chose the latter
You haven't been out of your room for days
Blaming everyone when it won't go your way

I see you're having troubles
I'd offer advice but you love the struggles
When I ask what's on your mind
You say

You say you're fine
But you've lost your shine
You say you're fine
But you've lost your shine
You say you're fine
But you've lost your shine

I guess you love the struggle
I'll sit back and watch your world crumble
If you ask what's on my mind
I'll say

I'll say I'm fine
I'll say I'm fine
I'll say I'm fine
I'm fine, I'm fine
