

Can't Unsee It

San Fermin

Never knew I needed you in my life
Now I see you, I can't believe it
Showed me love I never knew could be mine
Now I see it, I can't unsee it

Opened all the doors and you looked right through me
Saw the place was empty and you moved right in
You lit up the room and I can't unsee you now
Look at me now
Look at me now

Is it love if it lives in the shadows sometimes
Feel a need but to not be needed
When we'd kiss I'd know it wasn't always me on your mind
When I'd see it, could not unsee it

Opened all the doors and you looked right through me
Saw the place was empty and you moved right in
You lit up the room and I can't unsee you now
Look at me now
Look at me now

In between what you'd show me and what you would hide
Was a sadness that grew unheeded
My love brought a loneliness you couldn't abide
Once you see it, could not unsee it

Broke down all the doors when you ran right through me
Saw the place was empty and you blew right in Never meant to you what you meant to me now
Look at me now
Look at me now
Look at me now
Look at me now

Busted all the windows when you stormed right through me
Flooded all the spaces where the walls had been
Water in my eyes and I just can't see you now
Look at me now
Look at me now
Look at me now
Look at me now
