

Tired of Loving You

San Fermin

When you come around
My friends all fall for you
I see em want what they can't have
I feel the same way too
Even just to hold you is like
Sunlight in the gloom
I don't know why I'm tired of loving you

Once you get to know me
It won't take much time
I can do impressions
But there's always a line
I know you'd never leave me
To love somebody new
I don't know why I'm tired of loving you

It's a storm I didn't forecast
On an evening on the beach
It's the quicksand at the party
And I can't move my feet
I wish you'd try to use me
Do it quick and make it soon
Don't know why I'm tired of loving you

Every night I wonder
Why I can't be the one
Among the sea of loving eyes
And all the hearts you've won
Just because I'm empty
Doesn't mean that I have room
I don't know why I'm tired of loving you
Tell me why I'm tired of loving you
I don't know why I'm tired of loving you
