Brotherhood Of Destruction

Screaming with confidence Lips built to bleed The war it starts with them With haunted eyes they feed

Pain on your face, pushing your way through Picking up the fallen, knowing that it's you Tortured eyes in a dreamless mind, I look away A different kind of blood flows through our veins forever

Can't help but feel the power Of something deep inside Bloody and beaten down There is no need to hide

Tortured eyes in a dreamless mind, I look away A different kind of blood flows through our veins forever

Show me your pain, show me your fear Gather your strength and keep it near

Pain on your face, pushing your way through Picking up the fallen, knowing that it's you Tortured eyes in a dreamless mind, I look away A different kind of blood flows through our veins forever

Show me your pain, show me your fear Gather your strength, keep it near:
