

Look Up

Sandi Thom

I don't wanna live like a fast-forward junky
Gettin' caught up in the net, too busy takin' selfies
Lately I get the feelin' that I'm livin' in an illusion
A material slave to the master of delusion
Sendin' love heart emojis when the message is empty
Paranoid and angry that he didn't text me, please
Pause, rewind and stop

So tell me how you feel with both eyes open
Symptom of your love, is one heart broken
I'm so much more than a screen you touch
You'll find me if you just look up
Everyone knows it's a worldwide crisis
Everyone lives by their own devices
Everyone thinks they know so much
But you'll never find out till you just look up

There's so many friends all talkin' to me on my phone
But do you ever get the feelin' that you're livin' this life alone
Countin' my likes, caught up in self-promotion
Whatever happened to a little old fashioned love and devotion
And now I feel like an invisible, transparent, digital [?] comments on anythin' that I do
Especially you, ooh-ooh

So tell me how you feel with both eyes open
Symptom of your love, is one heart broken
I'm so much more than a screen you touch
You'll find it if you just look up
Everyone knows it's a worldwide crisis
Everyone lives by their own devices
Everyone thinks they know so much
But you'll never find out till you just look up

Look up, look up
Look up
Look up
You'll never find out till you just...

Playin' a game that I'm losin', I'm so, so confused
And I don't wanna live in this alternate [?]
Set me free... oh, set me free

Everyone wants to be close to the fire
Zeros and ones, digital desire
Everyone lives for the online crush
You'll never find love till you just look up
Everyone knows it's a worldwide crisis
Everyone lives by their own devices
Everyone thinks they know so much
But you'll never find out till you just look up

So tell me how you feel with both eyes open
Symptom of your love, is one heart broken
I'm so much more than a screen you touch
You can find me if you just look up

Look up, look up
Look up
Look up
You'll never find out till you just look up

You'll never find love till you just look up
