

Silence

Sandi Thom

Here beneath the desert sky
My hearts been rolled like a dice
In this lonely place where nothing grows
I don't even know what I know

Watch me as I turn away
Holding onto skies so grey
While the world is distant dust
Have I decayed and turned to rust

When you release me from the pain
I never ever felt the same again
Crawling slow paralyzed by fear
I waited in silence all these years

Holding on to desert rain
Slipping silently washing my pain
I need to believe in something to say
I Feel like living a new life today

When you release me from the pain
I never ever felt the same again
I can find a way through all of my tears
I waited in silence all these years

As I fall with hope down to my knees
I waited in silence all these years
I waited in silence all these years