

Slowly, you and I drifted slowly
Into the blue offload, we got alibis
But we're hiding in the sky, slowly
Love me, how did you get so lovely?
Even your mind don't know, are we hypnotized?
Mark me the rest, that's sugar, it's high, high

But when I'm dreaming, I see things, they never leave my mind
Memories seeping, caught deep in, oh, it's hard to tell me why
But my demons, you see them
There's reasons you feel how I feel
How I feel

So, baby, if you're going to break me
Could you hold my body while you let me down?
I don't feel pain when you're around
So baby, no, I won't be angry
Loving you is like getting burned and feeling cold
Like two kids kissing in a storm
I know, it's all worth it
I know, that you're worth it

Wearing you around my neck
Speaking my dialect
I wanna know what you look like in the shade I bought
'Cause you look so good in dark blue
You're your mama's child
Seem nine in the way you smile, through the mobile

But when I'm dreaming, I see things, they never leave my mind
Memories seeping, caught deep in, oh, it's hard to tell you why
But my demons, you see them
There's reasons you feel how I feel
How I feel

So, baby, if you're going to break me
Could you hold my body while you let me down?
I don't feel pain when you're around
So, baby, no, I won't be angry
Loving you is like getting burned and feeling cold
Like two kids kissing in a storm
I know, it's all worth it
I know, that you're worth it

So, baby, if you're going to break me
Could you hold my body while you let me down?
I don't feel pain when you're around
So baby, no, I won't be angry
Loving you is like getting burned and feeling cold
Like two kids kissing in a storm
I know
That you're worth it
