

Watching TV

Sara Kays

I've had a love that was doomed from the start
I've had a love that slowly fell apart
I've had a couple more that didn't make sense
But at least I knew when those came to an end

That it was coming
And I'd be fine
Then I'd move on and I'd survive
But not this time

Yesterday you were happy to see me
Fell asleep watching re-runs on repeat
Then when morning came you decided to leave me
Where did that come from we were just watching TV

Was it that time I was late to your house
Was it that time I avoided your call
Was it the words I should've kept to my mouth
Or was it just a combination of all
The sleepless nights from little fights
To lines we didn't draw
I guess they weren't so meaningless and small

Yesterday you were happy to see me
Fell asleep watching re-runs on repeat
Then when morning came you decided to leave me
Where did that come from we were just watching TV

Wish I could say that I caught you cheating
Wish you gave me a reason for leaving
Now you're driving off and I'm stuck with this feeling
What the hell I thought we were just watching TV

We were fine
Now we're not
You were mine
We were just watching TV
We were fine
So I thought
Never mind
We were just watching TV

Yesterday you were happy to see me
Fell asleep watching re-runs on repeat
Then when morning came you decided to leave me
Where did that come from we were just watching TV

Wish I could say that I caught you cheating
Wish you gave me a reason for leaving
Now you're driving off and I'm stuck with this feeling
What the hell I thought we were just watching TV
