

Bedroom Floor Feelings

Sarah Barrios

My parents getting older makes me nervous
Don't wanna think about it now
But it really weighs me down
On my own I get anxiety 'bout dyin
I'm running outta time
My friend are like split ends I got too many
And they're all inside my head
Sayin' things I never said
I'm convinced my younger self had all the answers
Look who's laughing now

I'll be okay, right?
They won't go away, I
I can't explain why
I can't get rid of my

Bedroom floor feelings
Won't leave me alone
They follow me home
In the corner of the closet where they hide
Sneakin' into every part of my mind
Feelings
That I can't escape
They whisper my name
In the corner of the closet where they hide
Sneakin' into every part of my my my
Feelings
My feelings
Bedroom floor feelings

Yeah
Sometimes I think I peaked when I was 18
Made my high school proud so that I could settle down
I'm convinced that my nostalgia's gonna haunt me
Saying, look who's missin' out

I'll be okay, right? (Okay)
They won't go away, I (Away)
I can't explain why
I can't get rid of my

Bedroom floor feelings
Won't leave me alone
They follow me home
In the corner of the closet where they hide
Sneakin' into every part of my mind
Feelings
That I can't escape
They whisper my name
In the corner of the closet where they hide
Sneakin' into every part of my my my
Feelings
My feelings

Bedroom floor feelings
Won't leave me alone

They follow me home
