

Here

Sarah Blasko

Flowers open, winter's spoken
The same world by the view has changed
A veil has lifted, the ground has shifter
What you only long for is here

A moment mends a broken heart
If you'd only known it from the start
The moments form just who we are
You were always here

Eyes so open, kindness spoken
The same words but their sound has changed
It's clear as crystal, a perfect picture
A landscape that you only dreamed

A moment mends a broken heart
If you'd only known it from the start
The moments form just who we are
You were always here
Always here

A moment mends a broken heart
If you'd only known it from the start
The moments form just who we are
You were always
A moment mends a broken heart
It was burning for the circumstance
A beautiful coincidence and love
Always here
