

Leads Me Back

Sarah Blasko

I never thought this day would end
As it comes to a close
I try to make some sense
Of what this life is, it's harder
The weight it bearing down on my spine tonight
I go out walking, wading
Hope I won't cross over the line tonight
Tonight

I don't know how it came to this
There seemed nothing wrong
Now I'm indisposed
Is this our life now?
A burden
I feel it down the length of my spine tonight
I go out searching, wading
Hope I won't cross over the line tonight
And that
It leads me back to you
That it leads me back to you

That it leads me back to you

One thing for certain
I don't wanna be without you
We're always hurting, failing
The ones that we know we should love the most

No I don't know how all the days will end
But when they come to a close
I hope I understand
What this life is, and that I'm better
At carrying the weight for the both of us
Ever-searching, hopeful
Until I cross over the line that night
And that leads me back to you
That it leads me back to you
That it leads me back to you
Always leads me back to you
