

New Religion

Sarah Blasko

In my new religion,
I escape the tension

In my true confessions, you're not worth a mention

In my new religion,
I'll forgive no transgressions in my confrontations, in my legislations

But you don't know me that well but you follow me -- I can tell I'll take you one step further into the light of salvor

In my new religion,
forgive my obsessions

Go back before it all began,
go back before it all began...

But you don't know me that well
but you follow me -- I can tell
I'll take you one step further into the light of salvor

But you don't know me that well
but you follow me -- I can tell
I'll take you one step further into the light of salvor

In my...