

Just A Little

Sarah Cothran

Was doing fine in my own mind
Then you come haunting me
The last thing I need
Interrupting my life
Sweet lines, I can't fight
You're starting to make me believe
We might could be
Something worthwhile

If anybody's listening
Take it from me
It hurts just a little
I know what you want from me
So could you please
Just back off a little

Now you're making me nervous
I don't deserve this
Kind of love
I think I'm falling
You do it on purpose
I don't wanna hurt

Forget the past, this one will last
You gotta stop promising me
Things we can't keep
You don't think I've heard this all before
Baby, I'm sorry now
I just can't allow this
Don't tell me how
Much you love me oh cause
Baby, hear me out
It's gonna change

Now you're making me nervous
I don't deserve this
Kind of love
I think I'm falling
You do it on purpose
I don't wanna hurt

So if anybody's still listening
Take it from me
It hurts more than a little
