

Stronger Than Me

Sarah Cothran

Crawling out the woods
Am I in the clear yet?
Shadows all around
Look at the stars for guidance

I hold my head up high, look to the sky
In the darkness
I hold my head up high, I'm terrified

Cuts all down my arms
Bruised and blue and beaten
Inside I'm filled with scars
But those are from the demons

So, I hold up my head up high, I wanna cry
In the silence
I hold my head up high

Locked inside of my mind
I can't fight, but I'll try
Take this pain inside
Darkness hides, but it's not
Stronger than me

There's no sign of life out here in the desert
It's just dust for miles
I pray for better weather

So, I hold my head up high, look to the sky
Beg for something
Do you not hear my cries?
Give me a sign

Locked inside of my mind
I can't fight, but I tried
Take this pain inside
Darkness hides, but it's not
Stronger than me

I hold my head up high
I'm terrified
I wanna cry give me a sign
No, I'm so tired
With my head up high

But it's not
Stronger than me
