

Fire

Sarah Darling

Crossroads and warning signs
And I just don't how to be inside those boundary lines
But my feet just keep walking
And my eyes keep looking up for Something new

The mountains they keep getting higher
All the wishing in the world
It won't stop the hands of time
Time doesn't care, she moves faster
As I fall behind
And

You could light a city
With this fire
Never getting smaller
Only gets wilder
Testing me like crazy
Just for once I'd like to walk the easy road
And try the ordinary
But the fire won't let me

Chasing a world of walking wires
All I've ever known is how to follow my desires
And If that is how I'm made
Then my head and heart will always have to fight

You could light a city
With this fire
Never gets any smaller
Only gets wilder
Every day
Testing me like crazy
Just for once I'd like to walk the easy road
And try the ordinary
But the fire won't let me

Ooooh
Ooh

You could light a city
With this fire
Never gets any smaller
Only gets wilder
Every day
Testing me like crazy
Just for once I'd like to walk the easy toad
And try the ordinary
But the fire won't let me
