

Burger

Sarah Klang

Eating a burger alone in the sun
Raging anxiety and I'm all alone
Three hours from drinking just to feel anything
I'm outside the venues while they're sound checking

What's the point of this?
Somebody asked me and I didn't know what to say
What's the point of this?
I guess chasing the dream was a big mistake (Big mistake)

And when I fall asleep in the car the next day
I keep on moving my restless legs
And I pretend that I live in all the houses that we pass
Try not to think about that time goes by so fast
FaceTimeing backstage and I can't hear a word
I can just see them move in slow motion
And it's like I could smell her little head through the phone
But she's with her daddy and I'm all alone

What's the point of this?
Somebody asked me and I didn't know what to say
What's the point of this?
I guess chasing the dream was a big mistake
What's the point of this?
Somebody asked me and I didn't know what to say
What's the point of this?
I guess chasing the dream was a big mistake (Big mistake)

(Big mistake, big mistake)
(Big mistake, big mistake)
