

Magic Stone

Sarah Klang

How could a sun be born out of a moon?
How could she shine when my colour is blue?
Is there a word bigger than love?
Is this the place where I'm finally feel enough?

How could she shine so bright that it hurts?
She's like a fire out in the summer woods
Deep down in the forest, I find her in a cave
Glowing like a magic stone
I pick her up and take her home

Oh-oh-oh-oh, ooh
Oh-oh-oh-oh, ooh

And I've been on this journey all along my life
I've been up, but now I feel so high
And it's not like them bad drugs
No, this feels divine
I wanna scream it, shout it all the time

How could she shine so bright that it hurts?
She's like a fire out in the summer woods
Deep down in the forest, I find her in a cave
Glowing like a magic stone
I pick her up and take her home

Oh-oh-oh-oh, ooh
Oh-oh-oh-oh, ooh

I couldn't love you more
Something would break if I did
And my heart is in overload over this
I couldn't love you more
Something would break if I did (Ooh)
Now my heart is in overload over this
