

I Should Have Kissed Him More

Sarah Vaughan

I should have kiss him more
Missed him more, held him close
And listened for his warm and tender whisper in my ear

I should have sought him more
Bought him more, then gone out and brought him more
For he gave love, and love was keeping him near

But instead I couldn't see
Carelessly turned his arms away from me
Thinking he'd come hanging 'round my door

Heaven knows, if I had only, if I had only tried
Shared my pride, yeah, he'd be mine
And by my side, at last I know
I should have kissed him more
