

It's Simple

Sarah Vaughan

When you walk through my door for the first time
It seem like a sign no heart should forget
But you're living with dreams someone's broken
Will you turn your back on me now from regret?

If you're scared to give in to emotion
Let my touch convince you that this love is true
Empty words can't describe what we're feeling
It's simple my kisses are talking to you

You're afraid to believe it can happen
The magic of passion that make stars climb
It can last all the years of a lifetime
It can't heal the pain that I feel in your eyes

If you're scared to give in to emotion
Let my touch convince you that this love is true
Empty words can't describe what we're feeling
It's simple my kisses are talking to you

If you're scared to give in to emotion
Let my touch convince you that this love is true
Empty words can't describe what we're feeling
It's simple my kisses are talking to you

If you're scared to give in to emotion
Let my touch convince you that this love is true
Empty words can't describe what we're feeling
It's simple my kisses are talking to you
