

You Taught Me To Love Again

Sarah Vaughan

Said I was through with love and romance
Friendless and blue I hadn't a change
Then you taught me to love again

Maybe I'm wrong to feel like I do
But right or wrong I'm trusting in you
For you taught me to love again

The first time we kissed I tried to resist
But you set my heart ablaze
No wonder I feel, the way that I feel
Whenever I speak your name

Say what you will, I'll kneel at your shrine
Oh, what a thrill to know you are mine
For you taught me to love again

Say what you will, I'll kneel at your shrine
Oh, what a thrill to know you are mine
For you, taught me to love again
Oh, what a thrill it is to know you are mine
And we're in love again
