

Coming Home

Sash!

Life is a gift we carry each day
We live to exist in mysterious ways
I know I believe this journey I take
How far will I go before it's too late?

I wanna feel alive
Come back to the place you're meant to be
I wanna feel alive
It's the only way that I am free
I've been running round in circles
Searching all the world but now I see
That I couldn't turn away from you
I'm coming home

There's places I've been in so little time
I know this could be, be the end of the line
And how many times will I hear you calling?
Just stay by your side, I'll be all I wanna be with you

I wanna feel alive
Come back to the place you're meant to be
I wanna feel alive
It's the only way that I am free
I've been running round in circles
Searching all the world but now I see
That I couldn't turn away from you
I'm coming home

I'm coming home
I know I believe this journey I take
I'm coming home
I'm coming home
