

My Mind

Sasha Keable

You must believe that I'm okay
That I've come to terms with this heartbreak
That we're both on the same page
But if you really knew me you'd know that's not the case

Can't help but feel like it's my fault
Like there's more I could have done
Now I'm alone and so unprepared
Boy you said you were the one

Who knew love could end so quickly
Memories are so unkind
You dropped that bomb and it hit me
Now all I've got is my mind

I never thought that this would end
I lost my man and my best friend
But what hurts most is you don't care
When for five years you were always here

Can't help but feel like it's my fault
Like there's more I could have done
Now I'm alone and so unprepared
Boy you said you were the one

Who knew love could end so quickly
Memories are so unkind
You dropped that bomb and it hit me
Now all I've got is my mind

And we don't talk anymore
Even though we said we would
And you told you loved me
More than I'll ever know
But now we'll never know

Who knew love could end so quickly
Memories are so unkind
You dropped that bomb and it hit me
Now all I've got is my -
Who knew love could end so quickly
Memories are so unkind
You dropped that bomb and it hit me
Now all I've got is my mind
Now all I've got is my mind
