

Hi Time Tonight

Sass Jordan

Who's that standing up against the bar
I think you know just who you are
And you know what you do to me
It's getting dark too dark to see

Hi time tonight it's hi time tonight

Dancing all around the question
Getting in the right suggestion
No one can define the action
All it takes is some reaction

Hi time tonight it's hi time tonight

Enter the party and step down to the floor
Where everybody's moving and they're coming back for more Forget competition be who you wanna be
And leave your inhibitions in the straight society
Work is taking all your time but love is what you got in mind

Hi time tonight it's hi time tonight

Who's that standing up against the bar
I think you know just who you are

What's the use when you've got your hat on
Take it off we'll discuss the atom
Dance it out for another hour
Gonna need another shower

Hi time tonight it's hi time tonight

I've got some advice I would like to relate
The hell with the clock that tells you not to be late
Relax with the rhythm feel it in your bones
Remember that there's more to life than hanging on the phone
Work is taking all your time but love is what you got in mind
