

Through The Night

Satin Jackets

Serious
The words are serious
Had enough
What's in my head

Give it up
Won't you give it up
You are not strong enough
To try to understand

I don't need your love but it feels so fine
It's the way that you've been loving me
Through the night

Scar remains
Shattered words through the clouds
I won't be late
To the stars

Give you up
I won't give you up
So just turn it on
Don't complain

I don't need your love but it feels so fine
It's the way that you've been loving me
Through the night

You say I own you nothing
You're feeling incomplete
But world, it has no answers
Only questions I don't need

I don't need your love but it feels so fine

I don't need your love but it feels so fine
It's the way that you've been loving me
Through the night

You say I own you nothing
You're feeling incomplete
But world, it has no answers
Only questions I don't need

I don't need your love but it feels so fine
