

Free, free, free, free

I pray we all find peace
I pray we make it beyond disbelief
I pray for trees, the birds and the bees
I'm grateful for air we've been given to breathe
I pray for children to follow their dreams
I pray we make it to ultimate self
I pray we're given the tools and the keys
And pray we can lean on each other for help
I pray, I pray we all find love
I pray we forgive and rebuild the trust
I pray no evil here will prosper
I pray they free up my brothers in cuffs
I pray for those feeling down on they luck
I pray you realise you are enough
I pray you know that these feelings are temporary
Bet on yourself, there's no giving up
I pray my ideas are felt by the masses
"Incredible art, genius stuff"
I pray to better the bond with God
Grateful for who I'm allowed to become
I pray, I pray we always grow
I pray that we abandon our egos
I pray we walk in the image of God
Never afraid to see the unknown
All of my silent prayers unspoken
I pray my story is forever told
I pray you always pour into yourself
And know that your soul is covered in gold
I pray, I pray we always rise
Above the valleys, the mountains and skies
I pray we always remain empathetic
And look at each other straight dead in the eye
I pray we cut off all toxic ties
I pray we're blessed with the gift to be wise
I pray that we overcome all the lows
And bask in the moment of feeling the highs
I know the Black man resembles Christ
I know my body is a temple
When I'm used as a vessel, I will Never been seen dancing with the devil
This life is precious, special
My spirit levels
[?] pray to the [?], the Allah
Never sell my soul for the pound or the dollar
God flow dem like no other
Your dark energy won't fade my colour
Two man, not when I'm with my squad
How can I be stopped, when I move with God?
Think I'm found and I think you're lost
The world won't judge you
Head up, then I close eyes
I walk in the clear image of the most high
Faith in the waters, through the low-tides
I can never be controlled by what I don't buy
I pray, I pray we all share knowledge

I pray we all offer some comfort and solace
I pray we take better care of the Earth
Cherish our deserts and cherish our forests
I pray we speak with a tongue that's honest
I pray we understand how to be modest
I pray when she looks at herself in the mirror
She sees a queen, she sees a goddess
I pray, I pray we all make time
Family is the real circle in life
I pray we honour emotions and feelings
And always remember it's okay to cry
I pray you...
