

Light worker
Luminous channel, for good
Don't dim it down for anyone
Quiet light
Gentle light
The feeling of embrace
The absence of fear
All knowing, all seeing, all loving, creator
Continue to use me as your vessel
Your light
To bathe over your people
A million glimmering sun-beams
To soothe the broken
To give hope to the despairing
To burn brightly through the passing clouds that sometimes obscure your purpose
Blessed are we who answer your call
Who through tears choose to follow the tiny flicker with faith
Knowing, that in time, it will light the world
