

Steal the Faith in Me

Savage Messiah

Long winters fall
It is the age of deliverance
The age of us all

These are the days of surrender and flight
The futile forever with vengeance in sight

Steal the faith in me
My mind goes blank
Deal the blame for real
It turns to black

And seasons wane
To stretch the arm of forgiveness
A pledge to remain

Freed are the slaves to render and fight
This longing agenda with ascendance and might

Steal the faith in me
My mind goes blank
Deal the blame for real
It turns to black
Steal the faith in me
My conscience calls
Reel the hate in deep
I turn my back

On and on the sirens rage
Fear is our best hope now
The stage is set, the final bow

Steal the faith in me
My mind goes blank
Deal the blame for real
It turns to black
Steal the faith in me
My conscience calls
Reel the hate in deep
I turn my back
