

Come on in the water
Swear it's warmer than it was before
You know you're more than welcome
Go ahead and leave your clothes by the door

Will you worry when you start to find
That you can hardly recognize your own face anymore?

So tell me 'bout that water
Was it warmer than it was before?
Overstayed your welcome
Everybody's gone and it's starting to pour

Do you worry when you say you're fine?
You couldn't even recognize
Couldn't recognize my face

Did it hurt to hear me say
That I ain't yours no more?
'Cause it hurt to walk away
Knowing I ain't your love, no
I ain't your love no more

You know damn well why
You can hardly recognize me
You know damn well why
You can hardly recognize me
You know damn well why
You can hardly recognize me

I ain't your love
No, I ain't your love
No, I ain't your love
No, I ain't your love no more
