

Deranged & Desperate

Saves the Day

You say you're leavin',
You don't know why you came back.
You say you're seeing clearly,
You're gonna have a heat attack.
Because I, because I keep on talkin'.
Sounding deranged and desperate.

I drop down onto my knees,
The sun is hanging low through the leaves.
I know my love I drove you away,
I'm dying trying to change.

I know it's over,
What we once used to be.
And so I say I love you,
To say what you will say to me.
And then you, and then you say you need me,
To say undid to reality.

I drop down onto my knees,
The sun is hanging low through the leaves.
I know my love I drove you away,
I'm dying trying to change.

When will learn to be you,
When will you have a choice.
When will you drop the defense,
Find you have a voice, woe ho!

I drop down onto my knees,
The sun is hanging low through the leaves. x2
I know my love I drove you away,
I'm dying trying to change.
