

The Revelation

Saviour Machine

[i. the blood of the lamb] can you feel the signs feel the signs

are we still alive
numbers - he makes his way numbers - turn away take what you like stay with me, give me life scorch the men who wear the mark let the seas and rivers bleed into the air
the first born of the dead the mark upon his head turn away, turn away he who has an ear, let him hear drink the blood of the lamb

[ii. the plague]

and the first went poured his veil upon the earth and there fell a grievous sore breathe - dust to dust bleeding out of darkness a prayer for the dying they want his heart
they want his mind his blood - his blood his blood flows to the river his blood can break the night to cry out for the answer in the light to roll across the land the wound we cannot mend
it drags you through the doorway scaling the walls between his eyes his eyes will hold the answer his eyes will shine above the night the morning after his love the system rapes you then creates you

[iii. the veil of armageddon] one law has manifested by his hand his reign has opened darkness on the land they punish all believers they torture all the children of the light run to the hills or face your crucifixion our stomachs bleed with hunger our feet are cold, behold our souls cannot be sold the battlefield is cold and worn seven years

the veil of armageddon
cries it's tears
the horsemen ride upon the night the rage of fear
the prophets crucified behold, the horsemen lie
the stage is set through all dimensions through the end
his promise is revealed the heavens break the seals

[iv. the wrath]

standing in time, two worlds collide break the numbers, break the chains break the chains there's nowhere to hide, you must be tried face the torture, face the pain ride the train into the fire don't stand in the fire
lord, what have they done denied the father denied the son lord, i see the end
take the children in love, descends he's come to set us free

[v. the resurrection]

lord, take my hand, take my soul through the door lord i understand i'm but a man who knows the pain within your tears your tears of love your tears of pain
they rain upon me
as the millions meet their fate lord, i need to see what lies beyond the great unknown the rays of heaven penetrate my soul to lift me through the door into the light, into the air beyond the fight, beyond the pain beyond the sun, beyond the rain i arise love descends upon the edge love descends upon the fortress love descends upon the soul surrounding as one one love is the answer one love is alive love lives through the channel love lives through the light do you believe in the power and glory the end is soon to pass and hell may now surround us and hell deceives the cast the door awaits you calling to set your spirit free and all the seals have opened for you to call on me all you little children are running from the door there's no need to run there's no need to hide there's no where to run there's no place to hide
