

Ants in My Pants

Say Anything

Stress can breed a psychopath
You're all that calms me down
I forget that I'm a mess when you're around
Please can you be home tonight
Say its not over yet
My human tranquilizer
My pretty percocet
I just want to chill with you tonight, girl
I wish that I could chill with you tonight

Chorus:

Stop the worries that keep forming in my head
I've got ants in my pants unless its you in them instead
Oh baby I was a faker before you

(Let's go)

Tomorrow brings a busy day
Its overstuffed with time
I need to hear you breathing on the line
And you can be closed minded
If you have open arms
Why can't I ever work my wily charms on you?
I just want to chill with you tonight, girl
I wish that I could chill with you tonight

Chorus

And you still weren't home when I dialed up the phone in the evening
So I'm twiddling thumbs and I'm wondering what's this I'm feeling
I may be strong below the belt
But not with what I thought and felt
That blissful knight I knelt
Between your legs
Between our heads
Between our hearts
I was a faker before you.
