

It's a Process

Say Anything

Never earned the key so I'm knocking
I know you're home
My liver tells me so
It demands moonshine
To bind the truth that I
Was fine before you made me know myself
I wish I could go back

(Could you please settle for maybe [?] what why how oh oh oh oh)

Char my member in the furnace
Still not dead but it's a process

What has he got that I don't?
What has he got that I don't?
What has he got that I don't?
All I know you'll never love me
What has he got that I don't?
What has he got that I don't?
What has he got that I don't?
All I know you'll never love me

Do you know I have the right to own a gun
Though my bumper sticker disagrees
It's one nation under psychopathy
It's so Long Island that my first vulnerability
Is the last thing you'll see

Char my member in the furnace
Still not dead but it's a process

So I ask

What has he got that I don't?
What has he got that I don't?
What has he got that I don't?
All I know you'll never love me
What has he got that I don't?
What has he got that I don't?
What has he got that I don't?
All I know you'll never love me

What has he got?
What has he got?
What has he got?
All I know you'll never love me
What has he got?
